

GOA UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF MARINE SCIENCES

22.08.2017

Sub: Advertisement for the position of Junior Research Fellow (JRF)

1. Candidates may submit application on or before 25.09.2017 for the position of JRF to work under the research project entitled "Beryllium concentration, clay minerals and metals in sediments in reconstruction of paleoclimate", PI: Prof. G. N. Nayak (gnnayak@unigoa.ac.in), sponsored by Inter University Accelerator Centre (Nuclear Science Centre) of UGC, New Delhi.
2. Qualification: M. Sc. with first class in Marine Sciences / Geology / Marine Geology from a recognized University. UGC-CSIR Net qualified candidates will be given preference. Candidates with experience of participation in oceanographic cruises, handling analytical equipment for water and sediment analysis are preferred. Selected candidate required to participate in scientific expeditions to collect samples.
3. The position is purely temporary and appointment will be for one year and extendable for two additional years depending on performance.
4. Candidates are required to submit application with self-attested copies of all the supporting documents. Application may be submitted through email only. Shortlisted candidates will have to appear personal interview.

Registrar