

GOA UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF MARINE SCIENCES

25.07.2018

Sub: Advertisement for the position of Junior Research Fellow (JRF)

1. Candidates may submit application on or before 06.08.2018 for the position of JRF to work under the research project entitled “Bioavailability of metal in Zuari estuarine sediments and their bioaccumulation in edible biota, Goa west coast of India”, PI: Prof. G. N. Nayak (gnnayak@unigoa.ac.in), funded by Department of Science, Technology & Environment, Govt. of Goa.
2. Qualification: M. Sc. with first class in Marine Science from a recognized University. UGC-CSIR Net qualified candidates will be given preference. Candidates with experience of participation in oceanographic cruises, handling analytical equipment for water, sediment and benthic biota analysis are preferred. Selected candidate required to participate in field surveys to collect samples.
3. The position is purely temporary and appointment will be for one year and extendable for one additional year depending on performance.
4. Candidates are required to submit application with self-attested copies of all the supporting documents. Application may be submitted through email only. Shortlisted candidates will have to appear personal interview.

Registrar