

GU research in news

India Science Wire, an initiative from Vigyan Prasar (DST, Govt. of India) has picked up a research paper that describes about the resistance of bacteria to antibiotics due to polluted environment published in recent issue of a prestigious journal Chemosphere for popularizing this research among the readers in Hindi titled 'प्रदूषण से भी बढ़ रही है रोगजनक बैक्टीरिया में प्रतिरोधक क्षमता'. This news service is dedicated to developments in Indian research institutions, universities and academic institutions. Almost all news stories released by this service are based on research papers by Indian scientists published in leading Indian and foreign journals.

Congratulations to the authors for their research contribution that opens up the important discussion and area for actions.