Dear Prof. Bhosale,

You are permitted to invite the teachers/researchers from Vietnam to your lab on Sat. 30th July 2022 for academic discussion but as you know it won't be possible to have their talk on that day as the attendance will be very poor. I have an academic council meeting on that day ie. Saturday 30th July 2022 from 10 am onwards and I don't know when it will get over. So I may not be able to meet them even though I wish to meet them as they are from Materials institute. If some of our teachers are interested in meeting them then you can arrange a discussion with them in the evening in the committee room. Your scientist guests can also present what they are doing in their institute in Vietnam in front of those teachers.

You can write to teachers about whether they are interested in having a discussion with them.
