National Commission For Scheduled Tribes

अस्मिता • अस्तित्व • विकास

National Commission for Scheduled Tribes (NCST) is a Constitutional body established under Article 338A of the Constitution of India. The Commission is constituted by the President by warrant under his hand and seal.

Organizational Structure of the Commission:

Post and the Status-

- The Chairperson - Union Cabinet Minister
- The Vice-Chairperson - Minister of State
- Members (3) - Secretary to the Govt. of India

The Commission has its headquarter at New Delhi and six regional offices across the country. The framers of the Constitution realized that the tribal communities have a special cultural identity and unique developmental challenges.

For centuries, the tribal community has been living a development model that has included ecological balance alongside economic growth. In the modern world, it is called sustainable development. Keeping this perspective in mind the specific requirements of the Scheduled Tribes were recognized.

To protect the rights of Scheduled Tribes and to monitor the development plans drawn for them, The National Commission for Scheduled Tribes has been given a special Constitutional status.
