Bio Data

Professor Vrinda Nabar is an eminent Indian academic, writer, and feminist scholar known for her contributions to gender studies and English literature. She was born in Mumbai and pursued her higher education in India and abroad, earning a Ph.D. in English Literature.

Nabar has held prestigious academic positions, including being a professor and head of the Department of English at the University of Mumbai. She has also been associated with other prominent institutions, including the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Bombay and universities in the United States and the United Kingdom.

Her research and writing focus on feminist theory, postcolonial studies, and Indian English literature. One of her notable works is "Caste as Woman," a seminal book that explores the intersections of caste and gender in Indian society. Nabar has also contributed to various anthologies and journals, bringing critical insights into the discourse on gender and culture.

In addition to her academic work, Professor Nabar is a respected public intellectual, often engaging in discussions on social justice, gender equality, and cultural critique. Her contributions have made significant impacts on both academic and public understanding of these issues.
