

Mr. Allan Jose Almeida, a PhD student from the Botany Discipline, School of Biological Sciences and Biotechnology, has been selected for the PhD-INSPIRE Fellowship by the Department of Science and Technology (DST), Government of India. He is pursuing his doctoral research under the guidance of Dr. Siddhi Jalmi, Assistant Professor of Botany.

INSPIRE Fellowship is one of the components of INSPIRE scheme implemented by the Department of Science and Technology (DST), Government of India to strengthen the Science and Technology base of the country. This Component focusses on attracting students to pursue doctoral degree in basic and applied sciences including engineering, medicine, agriculture, veterinary, pharmacy etc. after either master's degree in science/engineering or bachelor/ master's degree in Medicine.

Congratulations Mr Allan!