Goa Water Stories

Orientation and Presentation

Interdisciplinary research on Goa's Water, Ecology and Climatic Changes

Goa Water Stories is a program that fosters dialogue through interdisciplinary processes towards building an interactive archive, serving as a platform that brings together diverse stakeholders, including institutions, students, researchers, academics, writers, artists and experts. This collaborative effort facilitates critical engagement with water-related issues through workshops, colloquia and presentations in libraries, colleges, universities, museums and galleries. Through praxis we develop a shared vocabulary and subjectivity through 'on-the-ground' activities, initiating hyperlocal and public discourse on water. This multi-dimensional and inclusive approach integrates research, data visualisation, storytelling and digital tools.
