Goa University was established in 1985 by an Act of the State Legislature. As the only university in the State of Goa, Goa University has, since its inception, sought to address the academic aspirations of the student community in the State, through well-conceived undergraduate programs at its affiliated colleges, and postgraduate programs at the University departments.

The University has played a vital role in the generation and dissemination of knowledge, enhancement of capability by training human resource for the academic, industrial and services sectors. It has provided avenues for advanced learning in frontier disciplines of Science, Humanities and Social Sciences which were not adequately available in the State until the inception of the University. More importantly the University has played a vital role in empowering the students particularly coming from the disadvantaged and underprivileged segments of Goan society through the dissemination of various educational programs.

The University recently crossed an important milestone in its history by being reaccredited with Grade A from NAAC. This has brought in more visibility to Goa University in the academic map of India. Further, it also highlights our sincere efforts in strengthening the academic culture in the state of Goa.

This Handbook contains a synopsis of all academic programs offered by the University at its campus, a brief profile of the departments, as well as other relevant information that will provide the students with an overview of the academic ethos at the University. Though care has been taken to provide information as per existing rules, the same is subject to changes with revision of the University's Ordinances/Rules from time to time.

The committee appreciates the contribution of all those who have directly and indirectly assisted in the publication of this Handbook.

Women's Studies in India, is an interdisciplinary field of feminist scholarship and is a comparatively new discipline within the formal University system. Goa University is one of the forerunners in this respect, as it initiated Women's Studies in the 7th Plan through the establishment of a UGC Centre as early as 1988. It has been committed to the national agenda of women's empowerment and works with government agencies as well as NGO's on women's concerns, to link academics with field realities. The mandate for Women's Studies within the university system includes teaching, training, research, advocacy, field action and dissemination.

The Women's Studies MA Programme is designed to facilitate critical thinking and develop new knowledge, to help students understand the creation and perpetuation of inequalities with the intention to develop in students the capacity and skills to bring about change, create new areas of service and to ultimately impact policy and the discourse on women's development in the country. The programme also aims at creating research capacities for students to engage with the academic discipline of Women's Studies.

Prerequisites: A Bachelor's Degree in any subject.

There will be an entrance test/change of faculty test which will be held on 9 June 2015 (4.00pm - 5.30pm). The test will be a 100 mark paper with objective type questions based on general knowledge about women's issues. There will be an equal weightage given to the entrance test and TY examination marks for the preparation of merit list

The two year M A Programme in the subject of Women's Studies is governed by GU Ordinance OA 18.

	Ph. D.		10000.00

The Department of Earth Science, established in 1986, offers academic programme leading to M.Sc. (Geology) and Doctoral degrees. The department annually admits 15 students in its M.Sc. Programme and has capacity to admit 8 students for its Doctoral programme. Apart from teaching commitments, faculty members undertake several sponsored research programmes, consultative assignments and short term courses under the Continuing Classroom-cum-Distance Learning Programmes of the University. Department is also funded under DST (FIST) and UGC (SAP) at -DRS-III level programmes.

All the core (PC) and elective (PE) (optional-OC) courses included in the programmes have been specifically designed to meet industry standards and research requirements. The close links that the department enjoys with the industry (particularly Mining & Mineral) and research organisations, have worked towards elevating the level and quality of studies and facilities. The department also works towards reaching the general public under outreach programmes for creating awareness in conservation and management of natural resources. The Department has been actively involved in several international programmes (UNIGIS Distance Learning in GIS, International Earth Science Olympiad, etc.)

Accordingly the Masters programme includes fundamental courses such as Mineralogy, Geochemistry, Structural Geology, Sedimentology, Igneous Petrology, Metamorphic Petrology, Economic Geology, Stratigraphy and Indian Geology, as well as courses related to practical aspects such as Remote Sensing, GIS, Petroleum Geology, Mining Geology, Groundwater Geology, Exploration Geophysics, Statistical Geology, etc. The coursework is aided by introduction to computer applications in various fields. Some of the computer tools that the students are introduced to during the period of their coursework include Surfer, Strater, Rockware, Surpac, ArcGIS, IDIRSI, StereoNett, ERDAS, etc. apart from other software not explicitly related to the core subjects.

As a supplement to the various theoretical courses, the Department also provides the students with an opportunity to work in the field. There are two educational field programmes in the 2nd and 4th semesters respectively, apart from the practical industry training in mining or petroleum related industries at the end of the 2nd semester.

The majority of the students over the years have been placed in mining and oil companies through regular counseling and campus placements.

A DST-FIST Sponsored Department

Since its inception in 1988, the M.Sc. Marine Biotechnology programme has been funded by the Department of Biotechnology (Ministry of Science & Technology, Govt. of India, New Delhi), placing Goa University in an enviable position among the top DBT centres for M.Sc Biotechnology, on par with Universities such as Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, M.S. University, Baroda, Banaras Hindu University, University of Pune, and Madurai Kamraj University, in terms of receiving continuous funding from the DBT for the M.Sc Programme. Students taken in for the programme are nationally selected through the Combined Entrance Examination conducted by the Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. In view of its reputation and standard in producing world class human resource in Biotechnology in India, the Department was among the few centres identified to double the intake of students for the M.Sc. programme w.e.f. June 2003. Students qualifying through the Combined Entrance Examination receive a studentship of Rs. 3,000/-p.m. for the duration of the course.

The Department is one of the pioneers in Marine Biotechnology teaching research in the country and since the year 2008 has had the added distinction of being DST-FIST sponsored. It had been granted a sum of Rs.30 lakh by the DBT, exclusively for the replacement of obsolete equipment. It has excellent strengths that have been developed in the following thrust areas: Study of agarases, xylanases, lipases, cellulases, alginate lyases amylases and proteases of special characteristics of commercial importance from marine microorganisms; biodiversity & ecology of hypersaline Actinomycetes and sulphate reducing bacteria; study of marine macroalgae for nutraceutical properties and isolation of lectins; bioactive substances from plants extracts and marine sources; bioremediation of heavy metals by salt pan bacteria and their nanoparticles.

During the third and fourth semesters, the students undertake independent research projects as part of the curriculum.

Almost 90% of our postgraduate students have been qualifying for the CSIR/UGC fellowship, some of them securing very high ranking at the GATE examination. This is in addition to their achievements at the DBT and ICMR fellowship examinations. The placement profile of each outgoing batch has also been excellent, with the students successfully gaining positions in nationally as well as internationally renowned institutions.

As part of the curriculum, the students are given the opportunity to undertake independent research projects during the third and fourth semesters, for which they are assessed through dissertation reports and presentations.

With effect from the academic year 2013-14, the Department has been offering two additional programmes, viz., M.Sc. (Biotechnology) and M.Phil. (Biotechnology), specially to cater to the increasing requirements of the students of Goa for excellence in various aspects of Biotechnology.
